AMUSEMENTS

PASTIME THEATER

Two representative gatherings at last evening's performances with an overflow of many hundred would indicate that Tonopah folks are truly lovers of high class drama. The "Bishop's Carriage" caused a greater percentage of the populace to be in evidence than on any previous occasion wherein a high class drama has been staged or thrown on the screen. Miss Pickford is indeed petite as Nance Olden and her antics peculiarly astonishing because of the finished poise and dignity that she alone among the stars seems to possess.

The playing of Roy McGuirk on the drum and traps elicited great applause. His work on the mimbambone caused favorable comment. Rudolph Parker effected "cello solos." His work adds color to all programs.

The "Bishop's Carriage" will be repeated tonight. Henry Fife, with the orchestra, will help to repeat it.

Walter Warren yesterday secured an improved film service in his constant effort to raise the standard of the house.

BUTLER THEATER

At the Butler theater this evening another splendid program will be shown as follows: "The Conqueror," an Essanay drama; "Walls," a Biograph drama, and a two-reel Edison comedy, "Deacon Pillsbury's Downfall." Jealousy and rum are the deacon's undoing. He had been one of the local celebrities for years. A horse race starts the trouble which is added to by his daughter's love affair, his own love affairs, and an inquisitive tramp who discovers the secret jug.

Friday, "Sapho," in six reels, with Florence Roberts.

AT THE BIG CASINO

Two reels of independent motion pictures which have never been shown here before will be produced at 8:30 p. m. and 10:30 p. m. Entire change of program every evening. J81f

SCOTT'S MOTHER OFFERED BOUNTY OF THE KING

TENDERED USE OF APARTMENTS AT THE COURT PALACE IN LONDON

(By Associated Press.) LONDON, March 17.—Mrs. Scott, mother of the Captain Scott who lost his life in returning from the South Pole, has been offered one of the apartments in Hampton Court Palace. These are at the disposal of the king, who usually grants them to widows of men who have distinguished themselves in national service. Although the apartments are finely appointed, they are not always a delight to those to whom the king offers them rent free. It is customary for the tenants to pay the rates and taxes, which amount to something like $300 a year. For this price a fairly good cottage can be obtained in the vicinity. Hampton Court has its disadvantages, among them gossip and misunderstandings, as the life is somewhat like that of a community. Many of the apartments also are very high up and have no elevators. This inconvenience is not altogether met by a basket on the end of a string let down to the postman or tradesman. On the other hand, the rooms are very beautiful and the tenants have the use of the gardens in the early morning before the crowds of visitors arrive.

WAY CLEARED FOR BUILDING THE ALASKA RAILWAY

(By Associated Press.) WASHINGTON, March 13.—The Alaska railway bill, providing for the construction of 1000 miles of government railroad and the expenditure of $35,000,000 is now a law.

Plans for constructing the first government railroad already have been considered at the interior department and Secretary Lane, long an advocate of the project, is prepared to go ahead.

The measure authorizes the construction of not more than 1000 miles of railroad to connect Alaska's coal fields with the coast, the route and other details to be selected by the president. He is to decide if railroad lines already constructed in the territory shall be purchased as a part of the government system and whether or the road is to be operated by the government after it is built.

Senator Cummins said that leaving it discretionary with the president whether the government should begin erecting lines into the interior at the northern terminal of existing private railroads from the Alaskan seaboard might so enhance the value of existing roads that syndicates could demand a prohibitive price from the government.

Senator Pittman says that such a thing would be so obviously outrageous that no president would yield to any influence which could bring out such a result. The bill as perfected directed the president to construct a continuous line from the seaboard to the interior, and that obviously if first would be settled whether the main line should be built by the government or purchased outright, or by condemnation from existing corporations before an extension were constructed in the Alaskan interior.

GROWTH OF ZINC INDUSTRY IN THE UNITED STATES

METALLIC ZINC PRODUCTION—OUTPUT OF IN 1913 GREAT—EST IN HISTORY

The final figures of the production of spelter (metallic zinc) in the United States in 1913, compiled by C. E. Siebenthal of the United States geological survey, have just been issued. They show that the spelter output of last year exceeded any previous record and was greater than that of 1912 by nearly 8000 tons. Nevertheless, the total for 1913 fell short nearly 14,000 tons from the figure indicated by the phenomenal production during the first six months of the year. During the second half of the year the prevailing low price of spelter caused many smelters to curtail operations, so that the close of 1913 found only 75 per cent of the smelting capacity employed. In spite of this, the stocks at smelters rose from 21,856 tons on June 30 to 46,659 tons on December 31, by far the largest smelter stocks in the history of the industry. The year closed with the industry in a state of general depression.

The spelter made in the United States from domestic zinc ores in 1913 amounted to 337,253 tons and that from foreign ores to 9424 tons, a total of 346,676 tons, a gain of 2.3 per cent over the output of 1912. Among the States, Missouri had as usual the largest output, the ores from its mines yielding 129,018 tons, though this showed a decrease of over 20,000 tons from the preceding year. Colorado was next with 58,113 tons, also a decrease. Montana was third, with 35,750 tons, a gain of over 150 per cent. Big gains were likewise made by New Jersey and Oklahoma and smaller gains by California, Idaho, Tennessee and Utah.

Illinois led in the smelting of zinc, with 106,654 tons; Oklahoma was second, with 83,214 tons, and Kansas third, with 74,106 tons.

The survey statement gives a list of zinc smelters in the United States and shows their capacity at the close of 1913 to be 112,786 retorts, with 12,488 retorts in process of construction. Other tables show the production, consumption, imports and exports for the period of 1906 to 1913 inclusive, and a chart shows the fluctuation in price of spelter at St. Louis and London and of zinc concentrates at Joplin, Mo., for the same period. A copy of the report may be had free on request from the director, United States Geological Survey, Washington, D. C.

DEATH VALLEY ROAD ALLOWED TO BUILD

SAN FRANCISCO, March 16.—The Death Valley Railroad Company, an English concern in which F. M. (Borax) Smith is largely interested, was given authority by the State railroad commission to build 46 miles of railroad from the Ryan branch of the Tonopah and Tidewater to the "Biddy" McCarthy mines in Death Valley. This will give the Borax Consolidated, Limited, much better facilities for handling its borax output.
